

Italy's AI farming boom set to accelerate before year end

Posted on September 4, 2026 by Alina Trabattoni

Cambridge, UK — Italy's smart farming sector is heading for its strongest period yet, as a 40 per cent tax credit for agricultural technology and a wave of new AI tools open a three year investment window running to September 2028. The country's digital agriculture market is worth 2.5 billion euro and growing.
